

Human Rights in Healthcare

You are invited to attend a one day workshop

in West Midlands
on 28th April 2010
from 10am - 4pm
at the Village Hotel, Walsall hosted by Skills for Health
— FREE OF CHARGE —

The event is sponsored by the Department of Health and will be led by experienced trainers from the British Institute of Human Rights. Sessions will be practical and interactive with ample opportunity for stimulating discussion and shared learning.

The key benefits you will gain from attending are:

- Learning about human rights in healthcare settings
- Updated information on current legislation and ways in which organisations can use this to make a difference to their work.

“Our Human Rights Strategy underpins our culture and training. We have really benefitted from Skills for Health competence approach to this training and it is making a real difference to staff and patient care.”

Phil Waters, Surrey and Borders Partnership NHS Trust

To register contact June Clarke on june.clarke@skillsforhealth.org.uk with your full contact details, and advise of any special requirements you may have i.e. dietary or access.